It's the Parliament's job to scrutinize and debate the government's budget request. The Parliament should not approve a budget unless it is balanced, transparent, and in the Afghan people's best interest. Two of the most significant issues that remain unresolved in this budget is a long-overdue wage increase for the government workers and ensuring transparency and Parliamentary oversight of how each Afghani is spent, especially given the president's excessive improper realloc... The DPPC strongly condemns the horrifying attack on the Afghan Supreme Court members that killed two female judges and wounded two others. Our thoughts and prayers are with all affected. There's no justification for this act of terror against innocent and helpless people like the victims of today's brutal attack in Kabul.

Peace talks cannot go hand in hand with inhumane and heinous crimes like this against Afghan women, children, and men. Violence and terror must stop now if there's any hope for reaching a peace agreement.

The brave Afghan women will not bow to these cowardly attacks, and in no way will this discourage them from playing their active role in society and continuing to serve their homeland.

The people of Afghanistan deserve better and safer lives. Join the DPPC and the Afghan American community as we do our part to support a better future for our family and friends in Afghanistan. On January 26, 2021, we will participate in democracy and ask our representatives in Congress and the White House for their help. This link takes you to a page on our website that provides all of the information you will need to email or call your representatives in Congress and the White House on January 26th.

The page will:

- Find your elected representatives in Congress
- Give you the email addresses and phone numbers to contact your representatives and the White House
- Give you a script to use during your phone call
- Share a draft email that you can send

It is that easy! Together, we can do so much for our family and friends in Afghanistan and have our voices heard. This campaign is about the future of Afghanistan and all Afghans.

If you have questions or need assistance, send us a message on Facebook or through the contact page on our website.

Thank You For Doing Your Part

The Afghan-American Call-in Day Was An Outstanding Success Because of You!

Dear Friends,

Congratulations, we have a lot to be proud of!

Yesterday, over 500 Afghan Americans came together in a first of its kind event to engage in the democratic process. Together we spoke with one voice to ask our representatives in Washington to support our family and friends in Afghanistan.

The DPPC is so thankful for the enthusiasm and participation of thousands who visited our website and Facebook page yesterday from the Afghan American community across the country in states such as California, New York, Virginia, Maryland, Connecticut, Nevada, Indiana, and Texas, as well as strong encouragement from many back in Afghanistan including the reformers in Parliament. We are also grateful for the help of several Afghan American organizations, community groups, and community organizers who mobilized their networks to support the call-in day.

While today is a day to celebrate, our fight is just beginning. Effecting change in a democratic system takes time, patience and repetition. It requires us to be organized as a community so we can mobilize the hundreds of thousands of our fellow Afghan-Americans and the many organizations and groups that work in our community. By working together, we have a better chance of achieving our goals.

I call on you to stay engaged with the DPPC and our mission. Sign up for alerts on our website. Follow us on Facebook and share the stories we post. Participate in upcoming events and call-in days. If you work for an Afghan American community organization or group, please get in contact with us. Our agenda is not about one person, or one organization, or one policy, we are here to help the entire community and to help the youth of Afghanistan achieve better, safer lives than the generations that came before them.

Once again, thank you for the immense love and support.

Sincerely,
